

Helping hands

Bionic Gardening Gloves are produced by Hillerich & Bradsby, the company that gave us the legendary Louisville Slugger baseball bat. Designed by a hand surgeon who gave up his practice to develop better sports gloves for H&B, the gardening gloves have anatomic relief pads for thumb, fingers and palm to reduce fatigue (and blisters and calluses), as well as wrist supports, motion zones to improve flexibility, and web zones to enhance air flow.

The gloves are made of soft, washable leather, so don't wear them to haul rocks.

Bionic Gardening Gloves, $39.95 plus shipping and handling ($40 complete for Pennsylvania residents with promotional code BGGPA) at www.HandHelpers.com or 888-632-7091.
